For those of you who come with a mobile home

There are no residents around our facility who can be bothered by you standing with your motorhomes by the lake, so if you want to stand there during the competition weekend with your motorhomes in the area, we see no problem with that.

The Swedish Allemansrätten (legal right of access to private land and open countryside) gives all people the right to camp for a single night on land owned by someone else.

It might get a little crowded, but we'll sort that out when you arrive.

Let us know if you want your mobile home at the lake.
